Tim Strege Calls For Black Role In County Economic Development

Tim Strege, Democratic candidate for Pierce County Executive and Tacoma Deputy Mayor, announced his support of a countywide economic development plan that includes greater minority participation.

Strege, speaking before the Tacoma Black Collective on Saturday, May 12th, proposed that Pierce County government take the lead in stimulating the local economy to provide more business and job opportunities for local residents

"While the old commission system did little or nothing for black and minority citizens, Pierce County's new home rule form of government should be more responsive" declare County Executive candidate Tim Strege. "Minorities should be assured of economic opportunities in a County-City-Port of Tacoma partnership to help struggling local businesses and unemployed people "

Strege also indicated his support of a stronger county affirmative action plan, local laws against discrimination, and the formation of a county-wide human rights commission

Tim Strege is the former district administrative assistant to U.S. Congressman Norm Dicks and is on leave as the director of District Relations for the Washington State House of Representatives.

Strege is scheduled to speak at the Tacoma Urban League family for their Sixteenth Annual Dinner/Meeting, held on Thursday, May 24th from 6 - 9:30 pm, at the Bicentennial Pavillion, 1313 Market Street, Tacoma, WA

Duputy Mayor Strege, "Will bring greetings from the City of Tacoma", said Thomas Dixon, President of the Tacoma Urban League

Oil Ignites

President Reagan says he's not preparing to send American troops to war in Central American or the Persian Gulf, although he is pledging to keep the gulf open to oil tankers despite the brewing crisis in the region.

The President was asked if he planned to send fighter planes to the gulf region to protect shipping in the area but he declined to elaborate about the U.S. Contingency plans he said "obviously" are in existence.

"We have not volunteered to intervene", Reagan replied. "Our concern should be not enlarging the war. If they (the Saudi Arabians) ask us for help". Asked about the chances of U.S. troops fighting in the gulf, he replied, "I think very slight".

He played down the prospect of American intervention in either hot spot, Central America or Persian gulf. He appealed for congressional approval of his aid requests for El Salvador.

Addressing yet another potential threat to peace, Reagan said the Soviets announcement over the weekend that they have increased their missile-armed nuclear submarines off both America coasts causes him no concern.

ISAIAH 53: 1& 2

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a root out of dry ground.

He hath no form nor comiliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

HAVE YOU BELIEVED OUR REPORT?
SERIES #42
REVELATION 13: 9-18

If any man have an ear, let him hear! He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints. And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men. And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live. And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed. And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

Revelation 14:1.

And I looked, and lo, a lamb stood on the mount Si'on, and with him a hundred forty and four thousand, having his father's name written in their foreheads.

And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps

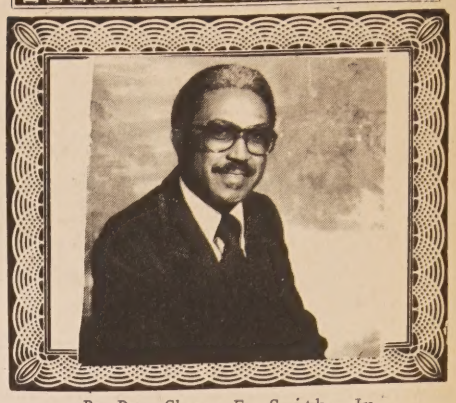
"The Doctors Prescription



By Dr. Chas. E. Smith, Jr.
Seattle, Washington

Prescription For Vitality

A physician made a surprising statement: "Often the first place people get sick is in the spirit, and this illness in their spirit transmits itself to the body." He told of an interesting case in his practice The patient was a man in middle life who constantly complained of feeling ill. The doctor said to the man, "Charlie, I will give you a course of treatment that can cure you of what ails you and get you once again in vigorous good health. But do you really want to get well?"

"Of course, I want to get well," Charlie replied in injured tone. "Why do you think I keep coming to you?"

"First, every day I want you to take a three-mile walk. Every single day, rain, shine, sleet or snow three miles each day, no less. That will take pressure off your brain, the pressure that comes from thinking and rehearsing unhealthy thoughts of worry, tension and anxiety. It's to be something you do every single day as a vigorous self-discipline And as you walk give thanks to God for everything you can think of; things like the sun, the rain, the snow; for giving you two good feet to walk with; for people you pass along the way; for your home; for your country; for every blessing you can possibly think of."

"Second, make a list of persons who are worse off than you are, those who are in trouble or sorrow and go to them and do something for them."

Charlie looked blank. "Why," he said, "I wouldn't know what to say to them."

"Then go and say nothing. Just show your interest and friendliness. Let them see your good will. You'll find other ways to be helpful If you don't know of anybody who's in trouble, I can sure give you names of plenty. And the third part of this program, is to read and reread the Gospel according to St. Luke. Over a period of time, see how much of it you can actually commit to memory." After outlining this strange prescription, he told his patient to come back and see him in two months.

You should see the man today His heart action is the best its ever been; blood pressure absolutely normal; his whole body vital, full of energy. He has new enthusiasm. Life to him is a lot better, and he takes pleasure doing things for people in trouble. He really enjoys trying to help them. And he quotes St. Luke by the paragraph. This man has actually had a renewal of the life force.

This doctor was no crackpot but a sound, high respected physician. He knew that people can indeed destroy their feeling of well-being by unhealthy thinking and self-centeredness. So in the case described, healing was brought about by a unique procedure which the doctor said will do anybody good.

"PULLED TOGETHER" FOR FALL!!!

This season's overall, clean lined message is distinguised by a modern approach to several of the well known classics. The borrowed men's wear is strongly represented in categories that span all classifications of ready wear.

This fall promises to be one of the strongest most exciting knit seasons ever. The mood is streamlined and feminine in gently shaped dresses and ensembles offered in wide selection of styles and fabric mixes.

The biggest news in fabrics is the thoroughly coordinated groups held together by color.

Fabrics in multiple patterns and weights are given additional texture by knits With these groups there is an unmistakable difference in: color, weave, print, novelties

THE DIFFERENCE IN COLOR: The Big News Brighter tones -- in plain fabrics or woven yarn combinations give fall fabrics a very attractive fresh look . a definite move away from the somber combinations of last season Brown next year's "black" in warm, softened tones.

Black- dated by itself . . newest when accented with bright acid colors. Well-Lit Jewel Tones bright, attention-getting colors that stand out in: Hot pink to ruby red; new teal; emerald green bright yellow; orange to brick; light purples to violet; chartreuse; a full range of rusts. The New Neutrals - a direction toward: Khaki-one of the best combinations with black and other shades; new winter whites; less oatmeal or sand tones

For Fall '84 the accessory story continues from last season in bold defined shapes and contours. The glitz, however, has diminished and been replaced with faux stones. Peuter and silver are primary metals, with copper and burnished copper effects offering fashion newness Necklaces make standout statements in either choker or longer lengths. Scarves and gloves become fall's very important and viable accessories, coupled in brilliant colorations creating style and impact. Hats in wonderful boaters fedoras, and berets best illustrate the finished, "pulled together" attitude of the seasons.

PSALMS 92

It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High: To show forth thy loving-kindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness every night. Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery; upon th harp with a solemn sound.

For thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep. A brutish man knoweth not; neither doth a fool understand this.

When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed for ever: But thou, Lord, art most high for evermore. For, lo, thine enemies, O Lord, for, lo, thine enemies shall perish; all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of a unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oil.

Mine eye also shall see my desire on mine enemies,

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

Black Communities Act On Family Issues

At a major conference sponsored jointly by the National Urban League and the NAACP, major national black organizations came together to discuss what the black community can do to help strengthen the black family.

All agreed that the problems facing black families in part stem from the inequities in our society that discriminate against black parity in jobs, in housing, in health care, in education, and in a host of other key areas affecting family life.

But at the same time, it is important to strengthen individual self-discipline and community values. That suggests too, a greater emphasis on male responsibility and the importance of the male role in family relationships.

While concentrating on the wrongs of discrimination and poverty, it is also important to do what we can about the family's problems ourselves. Government and private sector action is necessary, as are the services and the concern black organizations can provide.

About a fourth of all black births occur to a teenaged mother, and four-fifths of those occur outside marriage. That results in a disproportionate rate of female-headed households and one-earner families are more likely to be poor.

The birth of a baby often means the end of schooling for adolescent mothers. Forty percent of black female school dropouts leave school because of pregnancy. That's about 45,000 young women per year, or more than the number of black women who graduate from college each year.

About half of those young mothers never get a high school diploma So it is not surprising that the majority of adolescent mothers are poor; the median income of households headed by young black women is under $4,000

But the shockingly high incidence of poverty among children is not simply caused by the growth in female-headed households. Those families are poor not because they are headed by women but because jobs and training opportunitiesss for disadvantaged single mothers barely exist

Racial discrimination is an important factor, too. Over two-thirds of black women family heads with children are poor; only about two-fifths of similar white families are poor. That tells us race is as important as the gender of the head of the household.

Whites also have had similar growth in teen pregnancies and in female headed households Their rise in recent years may be large, but they still are a relatively small part of the white community. And they aren't penalized to the extent black families are.

Black people simply can't afford the added disadvantage in a society in which intact families have a head start over the rest.

It seems to me that the statistics indicate that intact families give children a head start in life; that two earners are better than one; that a liveable income is better than poverty, and that the advantages of stable family life are better than the disadvantages of growing up poor in one-parent households.

No one should fall into the trap of addressing our black family's struggles as pathological Even at their most dysfunctional they are a response to a society that practices discrimination and inflicts poverty on masses of black people through denial of opportunity and the refusal to institute even the most basic programs that foster independence and opportunity.

while public policies lead to private miseries, the formidable power and strengths of our organizations and of the black community can help build healthier, more stable families

KAPPA'S ANNOUNCE THAT CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION ENEMY OF BLACK AMERICANS

The Newly reconstituted U S Civil Rights Commission is an enemy of Black People, according to Robert L Gordon, Grand Polemarch of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc

Established in 1957, the Civil Rights Commission has traditionally been the "watchdog" of civil rights in this nation

Now that President Reagan has succeeded in stacking it with his people, it has become a commission under the leadership of Clarence Pendleton, bent on reversing civil rights gains previously made by Blacks," said Grand Polemarch Gordon.

On a 6-2 vote, the Commission has decided that the use of racial or sex quotas used to overcome historical discrimination should not be used thus reversing a long-established policy of the Commission By the same margin, the Commission has decided to take steps necessary to reverse its prior position in favor of voting rights legislation.

The Commission has adopted a statement deploring the Detroit Police Department's use of racial quotas to select new lieutenants as a means of overcoming prior discrimination in that department. The courts have found the Detroit practice to be legal Yet, the Commission wants to eradicate it and maintain the effects of the prior discrimination by taking no affirmative steps to undo the prior discrimination

"Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc., believe that this newly constituted Commission poses a very serious threat to Blacks' quest for equality It is important that all chapters and members be aware of this threat and work diligently to help reverse the direction of this Commission," said Grand Polemarch Gordon "For if this Commission continues the current thrust, no Black American's hopes for full equality will ever be realized."

Jobs & A Winner's Attitude

Many Americans are unemployed -- too many. But in many cases, unemployed people are unemployable; they absolutely lack the ability to read and write

That describes about 25 percent of all Americans and almost half of all Afro-American.

Then there are those who do have minimal skills and education, but who are in the wrong place at the wrong time.

An additional group has a problem that is even more complex. They are qualified by virture of education, but, for what appears to them to be baffling circumstances, the right job is still elusive. I meet them everywhere in my travels.

Too many African-Americans are too willing to blame White racism for everything White people simply are not smart enough to oppress us as efficiently as our own ignorance of certain facts. In this case, too few recognize that job finding is a science. But too many fail to recognize that racism cannot stop a winner -- and a winner has a winner's attitude.

Yes, it starts right in your head. Black Collegian magazine's "Jobs Issue" said: "The attitude with which you approach the task of seeking employment is also very important. You must come across as a positive, assertive individual who can handle the responsibility of the work place. Having good communicative skills and the ability to adapt to the changing environment of the business place will greatly enhance your success in seeking employment "

Simply put, the glass is always half full and never half empty. Moreover, your slang and "street talk" may have a place, but it's not the "work" place.

Black Collegian magazine has once again published an issue of critical importance to the Black community. The jobs issue of this 14-year-old magazine contains a most comprehensive listing of job opportunities available for Black college grads and young professionals. More than two hundred companies are identified with listings of jobs they are seeking to fill. The issue also contains an analysis of the top twenty industries in America, their employment trends, and advice from company recruiters on how to enhance your chances of employment.

__ The bottom line for people looking for work is preparation and attitude. Black Collegian can help you to be more than adequately prepared. Of course your own preparation in the career field of your choice is a major prerequisite. Just as Black's parents have historically stressed the need to be better prepared than your White counterpart, today it's still good advice.

The magazine analyzes the employment picture from the perspective of the Black job seeker. Information on companies with jobs also indicates if that company recruits on Black college campuses and if it has Black recruiting programs or Black hiring goals. All of the critical information you need to pursue entry level consideration by many of the major corporations in America is laid out.

Black Collegian reports that for the first time in three years, companies are projecting an increase in their recruiting of college students. While the projected increase is a moderate five percent, the fact that more companies are seeking to hire more college grads is yet another indication that the economy is emerging from the deep recession of recent years.

Engineering and other technical professions cntinue to offer the best employment prospects The demand for electrical engineers and computer science grads seems insatiable In the business field, a slight increase is projected in hiring of marketing/sales majors and accounting grads. Employers also report a continuing decrease in the recruitement of education majors, liberal arts and social science grads.

All of this information certainly points to the reality that Black people must become an integral part of the Information and Computer Age and learn how to operate and control the computer and its technical accessories. The Black community has to have an understanding of the social implications of the new technology It is imperative that Black people get in on the ground floor of developing new technologies and learn to use the technology to the advantage of Black interests.

If you need advice for yourself or a relative or friend, contact Black Collegian for a copy at 1240 South Broad Street, New Orleans, Louisiana 70125/ (504) 821-5694. Many university Placement Offices and some college bookstores can provide free copies also.

It's worth your effort to find out where the jobs are and how to get them. This magazine is an essential resource. I urge you to use it.
